

Act for Humanity Leave No One Behind

Background

Why does the world observe World Humanitarian Day?

- 350 million people worldwide are affected by crises.
- Frontline Humanitarian workers are the lifeline to those in need but are often caught and become a victim.

Campaign Objectives

1. To advance a shared understanding of the rights and dignity of frontline NGO workers, affected communities and civilians.
2. To strengthen the safety, security, and well-being of frontline NGO workers, people and communities in crisis and vulnerability and promote peaceful coexistence of Rohingya and host communities.
3. To encourage governments, international, and national humanitarian responders to effectively apply international humanitarian laws to protect the lives of humanitarian workers and affected communities.

The Plight of Aid Workers

- In 2021, a total of 460 aid workers fell victim to major attacks.
- 140 of them lost their lives.
- Tragically, 98% of those who perished were national staff.
- 266 reported attacks resulted in 203 aid workers sustained serious injuries.
- 117 were kidnapped.

Appeal Funding Gap (2019 - 2024)

Funding for Rohingya and host community

- The government of Bangladesh spends $ 1.2 billion every year.
- $ 700 million loans to Bangladesh in two projects.

Recommendations

- Refugees rise, aid falls: Management costs must be cut to reach out to more in need.
- Permit Rohingya people for income-generating activities to reduce pressure on aid.
- No loan to humanitarian response.
- Rohingya community should be allowed travel passes, bank accounts, and education.
- Ensure Accountability to Affected Population.
- Advocate for the survival, well-being, and dignity of all, regardless of affiliation.
- Stop targeting aid workers, all these violations and impunity of the perpetrators.
